

REVIEW

I thought the weekend away was great, Scott and Joe could roll sea kayaks, on the last day it only took them two hours to perfect it and I could capsize with the help of Craig, we all became good friends. My favourite dinner was the chicken chasseur. The night times were good fun but I preferred it when we were on the lake. I got six points put on my sea kayak license by speeding and crashing-whoops!, now I've only got one point left on my license. The most funny thing I can remember was Stu singing a song under the canoe it was hilarious.

By Thomas walls